Colleagues, attached are the slides I was invited to present to the regional air program managers last week, I thought this would be a good set of slides to start with today.

I'll bring my laptop so if there are other thing you would like to see, hopefully I can show them.

If time permits, I can also give a very quick demo of our draft web based GIS tool, the PFAS Data Explorer – could be useful for exploring air sources or presence of PFAS.

Draft public site:

Internal version (includes potential industrial sources, ):
